

TWO CENTS—THE DAY BOOK—TWO CENTS

ANNOUNCEMENTS

WEDNESDAY

Columbus club of Englewood holds special meeting and smoker at Masonic Temple, room 611, 7:30 p. m.

Louis Tarcai lectures on "Formation of Industrial Unionism" at Union hall, 1001 W. Madison, 8 p. m. "Welcome."

J. Frank Pickering lectures on "Cliff Dwellers of Ancient America" at Bohemian settlement, 1831 S. Racine av., 8 p. m. Illustrated.

THURSDAY

Chicago Cooks and Pastry Cooks' ass'n. Local 865, meets at 115 W. Madison, 8 p. m. Nomination of officers.

J. Frank Pickering lectures on "Grand Canyon of the Arizona and Indians of the Painted Desert," at Eckhart park, Chicago av. and Noble, 8 p. m. Free.

Wm. Hard of New York speaks on "The Present Social and Industrial Conditions in England and Their Bearing on the Outlook in America," at City club luncheon, 11:30 a. m. Speaking at 1 p. m.

"BAD PRISONER" ESCAPES

"Jack" King, alias Patsy King, whose real name is said to be John Murphy, escaped from Joliet prison today by climbing the wall. He was sentenced to serve from one year to life two months ago by Judge Brothers. When sentence was imposed he threatened the life of the judge.

BITS OF NEWS

Hammond, Ind., Chamber of Commerce asked State's Att'y Hoyne to probe vice conditions in Burnham, Ill.

Six horses killed in fire at rear of 3145 Cottage Grove av.

New York.—Jack Barry, manager of Red Sox, denied report here he has been dickered with Connie Mack to trade three or four Boston players for Wallie Schang.

• WHISTLE A SONNET! IT'S
• CHEERFUL, DOG-ON-IT!
• By Jim Manee

Say, this is a sing-songy world, after all,

We whistle or hum at our ease.
There are many the sour notes that rise and that fall,

And then die away on the breeze.
But who can't stand discords, if spirit is there?

No matter what voice you have got,
Just whistle or hum it, and reach to the summit

Of sing-songy feeling—why not?

P. S.—Even "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie," sounds good when it's raining outdoors and weather conditions are more or less gloomy.

U. S. AND ALLIED WAR OFFICERS HOLD WAR CONFERENCES

Washington, April 11.—A "series of war conferences" will be held from time to time between the U. S. government and representatives of the entente allies, both in this country and abroad, it was learned today.

These will have to do with initial co-operation between England, France and the United States toward safeguarding shipments of foodstuffs and other supplies to entente ports.

As the war proceeds the conferences will take an even broader scope, providing means of physical co-operation on a large scale, it is believed.

NEW YORK STOCKS.—Prices strong. Trading active. War issues and rails up.

WEATHER FORECAST

Unsettled and cooler tonight and Thursday; fresh west to north winds. Temp. Tuesday: High, 59; low, 45.